Hudson County Community College is an award-winning, comprehensive urban college located just across the Hudson River from Manhattan in Jersey City and Union City, NJ. Fully accredited by Middle States Commission on Higher Education, the College offers courses and classes in a wide variety of disciplines to the people and businesses of Hudson County, one of the most historic and ethnically diverse areas of the United States. The College was recognized with the 2012 Association of Community College Trustees (ACCT) Northeast Regional Equity Award, was one of just five finalists in the U.S. for the American Association of Community Colleges’ (AACC) Student Success Award, and was presented with the New Jersey Business & Industry Association’s Good Neighbor Awards in 2009 for the Culinary Arts Conference Center and in 2012 for the North Hudson Campus Project, and in 2015 for the Library Building.

Hudson County Community College seeks a new Chief Information Officer (CIO) to lead the Department of Information Technology. The new CIO will report directly to the Vice President of Student Affairs and the North Hudson Campus, and play a key role in strategic and technology planning to identify current and future needs, evaluate current trends in technology, and develop budgets to address the implementation of College technology plans. The CIO will provide leadership and oversight to direct reports in the areas of network administration, help desk services, computer support services, education technology services, and administrative computing. This position will also be responsible for maintaining the full functionality of College’s information technology systems and ensuring a high level of customer service and support to College constituents.

Position Requirements: Successful candidates should be seasoned administrative leaders who are committed to providing a high level of service and working with a dedicated and knowledgeable staff in a collaborative environment. The new CIO will remain current in instructional technologies, demonstrate a history of sound management in support services that includes strategic planning and budgeting, and possesses a learner-centered orientation to program/staff development. A collegial and collaborative approach to leadership, strong communication skills, a sound understanding of the mission of Hudson County Community College, and a student success-orientation are key. A minimum of six years of increasingly responsible experience in an Information Technology leadership position and a Bachelor’s degree from a college or university in Information Technology or related field is required; a Master’s degree is preferred. Knowledge of higher education systems, practices, and policies are also required.

To Apply: Send letter of application, résumé, salary requirements and names/contact information of three professional references.
