“THE RISE and VOICES OF ALUMNI”

Diego A. Villatoro, Class of 2019 Associate Degree in Business Administration

Meet Diego Villatoro, Alumni of Class 2019

Soon after high school, Diego joined the military. He served in the US Army and was stationed in Vilseck, Germany. He loved his work, his team, and the sense of duty to his country, but he wanted a bigger challenge. He always had a spark of curiosity and wanted to pursue higher learning.

Diego is a first-generation college student and a non-traditional student that had faced series of challenges. That small spark had been kindled by his experience at HCCC into a burning passion for the pursuit of knowledge. The support from his family, the lessons learned in the military, and the sustenance from his network had more than prepared him for the storm ahead. He was more than ready to take on any and all adversity and challenges.

He is currently working at Bank of America as a Relationship Manager and is preparing to take his licensing exams to become a fully licensed Financial Advisor. Diego is thankful to so many people that supported him and made his time at HCCC a truly memorable time.

His advice for HCCC students? “Do not be afraid to take on any task no matter how large it may be, how difficult a challenge it might entail, or how long it will take; the time will pass regardless.”
