HUDSON COUNTY COMMUNITY COLLEGE CELEBRATES THE 'TOPPING OUT' OF NEW LIBRARY & ACADEMIC BUILDING

Hudson County Community College marked an important milestone in the construction of its new Library & Academic Building with a "Topping Out" celebration on Tuesday morning, April 2. After remarks in the lobby of the College's Administration Building at 70 Sip Avenue, guests proceeded across the street to the site of the new building, where they had an opportunity to sign the topmost beam before it was hoisted into position.

HCCC President Dr. Glen Gabert stated that groundbreaking for the 117,000 square-foot, six-story structure was held in November 2011, and construction has been in progress since. The third of the College's from-the-ground-up construction endeavors, the Library & Academic Building will house a 33,000 square-foot Library on the first two floors. The Library space has been designed to accommodate traditional, printed collections as well as e-books and digital media, computer stations, wireless Internet service, power stations for laptops, and casual seating and a coffee bar for students, faculty and staff.

Floors three through five will include approximately 30 classrooms in traditional, computer-lab and tiered lecture hall designs. The top floor, which is stepped back from the street, will include a rooftop terrace with views of New York Harbor and the Hudson and Hackensack Rivers, as well as a large lobby/exhibition area (for progressive art installations, lectures and student gatherings). The top floor design also calls for three flexible-size classrooms with moveable partitions that will provide the College with a large venue for special events, programs and lectures.

In keeping with the College's commitment to being a good neighbor, the design of the new Library & Academic Building includes a predominantly brick exterior with strong traditional reference to the early 20th century architecture found in Journal Square such as large two-story arches, granite accents and complementary metal panels that add a contemporary touch.

By Carol Van Houten, Executive Director, Libraries

The HCCC Library Muslim Journeys series got off to a fabulous start on Wednesday, April 3 in the Follett Room of the Culinary Arts Institute/Conference Center with a lecture by Dr. Beth Citron, Assistant Curator of the Rubin Museum of Himalayan Art in New York City. With more than 50 people in attendance, including students from Professor Eric Lee's art class, representatives from the Muslim Student Association, staff from the Miftaahul Uloom Academy, students, various faculty members, and the general public, the lecture/presentation on the image of Partition in the visual art and modern media of India since 1947 examined the different ways artists have interpreted the effects of Britain's decision to divide the Indian subcontinent into the countries of India and Pakistan in 1947.

Beginning with a brief discussion of the century-long struggle against British colonial rule that brought about the birth of India and Pakistan as sovereign nations in 1947, Dr. Citron set the scene for how some artists of the Modernist Art explosion taking place in India after independence were influenced by the horrific violence that accompanied the Partition of Pakistan and India in the same year. Her presentation focused especially on two artists, Tyeb Mehta and Nalini Milani, both of whom show the lasting effects of the Great Partition not only in their painting, but also in the other media in which they worked. Of note was Mehta's "Koodal," a 16-minute film of scenes from Mahatma Gandhi's funeral that demonstrated visually and symbolically the effect that Partition had on Mehta as an artist and as a documentary storyteller.

Other topics covered included Citron's guest lectures at universities in Pakistan, her personal experiences with Mehta and other artists, her discovery and documentation of some of Mehta's lost works during her graduate studies in India, and how the Partition continues to affect the peoples of India, Pakistan, and beyond.

The HCCC Library sponsored Dr. Citron's lecture as part of the Bridging Cultures Bookshelf: Muslim Journeys grant program, through which HCCC's libraries were awarded a collection of 25 books, three films, and electronic educational materials by the National Endowment for the Humanities and the American Library Association. All of the programs organized around the grant are open to the general public. HCCC librarian, Clifford Brooks, noted that the outreach efforts generated by the grant stipulations have "begun partnerships with both the Rising Star Academy and the Miftaahul Uloom Academy, both in Union City. Although these partnerships at this point focus on Muslim culture and civilization, both schools have expressed their desire to expand their work with HCCC over time."

Major support for the Muslim Journeys Bookshelf was made available by a grant from the Carnegie Corporation of New York, with additional underwriting for the arts and media components provided by the Doris Duke Foundation for Islamic Art.

Local funding for all events and activities was supplied in part by the Hudson County Community College Foundation and the Office of Student Activities through a Program Activities Grant.

Additionally, it is being built for LEED (Leadership in Energy and Environmental Design) certification. NK Architects is responsible for the building's design and construction is under the management of MAST Construction Services, Inc.

HCCC President Dr. Glen Gabert said the Library & Academic Building is essential to the College's comprehensive physical expansion plan. "This new building will play a key role in the studies and lives of our students, faculty, staff and community," Dr. Gabert stated. "We have been determined to provide the people of Hudson County with state-of-the-art, beautiful places to study and learn, and this building will very much fulfill those requirements."

"Community is at the heart of everything that the College does," said HCCC Board of Trustees Chair William J. Netchert, Esq. "Making a project of this magnitude a reality requires the support and cooperation of our elected officials, the College's team of Trustees, administrators, faculty and staff and most especially, our neighbors in the community. We are grateful to everyone who has played a role in this project," he stated.

Dr. Gabert said that the College expects construction of the Library & Academic Building to be completed in late Spring 2014, with a Grand Opening planned for late Summer of that year.

Jim Sorrentino,
Facilities Manager

Jim Sorrentino began his career at Hudson County Community College as Facilities Manager in 2005. He received the designation of a Certified Facility Manager from Rutgers University's New Jersey School of Buildings and Grounds Association program in May 2006. Prior to joining HCCC, Jim had an extensive career in construction. Some highlights include Jim working as a Project Manager for the Engineering Department of Hartz Mountain Construction doing site excavation, wetlands mitigation and later as their Public Works Supervisor.

After many years with Hartz Mountain, Jim's interest led him to pursue the field of Communications. He became a member of the International Brotherhood of Electrical Workers' Local 164, and received a voice/data technician's license upon completion of their rigorous five-year apprenticeship program. Upon completion in 1993, Jim spent much of his time working as a project manager for the installation of voice and data systems for IBEW union contractors.

With a construction background and experience dealing with the workforce at many levels, Jim feels his position as the Facilities Manager at HCCC offers a skill set to the community that contributes to the College. Jim aspires to offer nothing less than quality services to the College and enjoys his position at HCCC. Jim stated that it has been a privilege to be part of a Facilities team that has been very supportive and productive to the expansion of HCCC.

Aura Matias,
Clerk Typist

Aura Matias started her career at HCCC in 1984. She was hired as an assistant to support the West New York Immersion Program directed by Irma Sanchez. This program offered students the opportunity to study ESL four days per week while continuing with their major courses on the fifth day. After Dean Bonachea arrived at West New York, Ms. Matias continued to support ESL with the eventual addition of credit classes.

Over the years, Aura maintained the position of administrative support for several deans as well as the Vice President for Academic Affairs, when she was stationed in West New York. Aura currently works with faculty at the North Hudson Higher Education Center and enjoys her position. As a member of Academic Affairs, Aura reports to the Offsite, Evening and Weekend Coordinator in Jersey City.

As a lifelong resident of Jersey City, Aura successfully raised two accomplished children. Her son is currently attending college away from home and her daughter is successfully completing her junior year in a local Jersey City high school. Aura is proud of her accomplishments both at home and on the job. We applaud the dedicated service and years of experience Aura has contributed to the welfare of the College.

Cathie Seidman,
Associate Professor

Cathie Seidman started her career at HCCC in September 2001. Coming to the College well credentialed, Cathie graduated magna cum laude from Wheaton College in Massachusetts with a bachelor's degree in Urban Studies and completed a Juris Doctorate from the Benjamin N. Cardozo School of Law at Yeshiva University in New York. Continuing her education, Cathie is ABD at Rutgers School of Criminal Justice, where her research, titled The Criminal Justice Response to Neonaticide, is a topic she finds fascinating.

Cathie was hired at HCCC as a full-time tenure track instructor in Criminal Justice and has worked her way up to associate professor. She has served on many committees including Academic Affairs and Tenure Review, among others. As coordinator of the Criminal Justice department, Cathie juggles multiple responsibilities, demonstrating her commitment to the College and her students. Her true passion lies in teaching.

Cathie is a member of the Academy of Criminal Justice Sciences and recently attended their conference, learning new ways to engage students through interactive exercises. She is looking forward to sharing what she has learned and incorporating this new approach in class.

Prior to her career at HCCC, Cathie was an Assistant District Attorney in Kings County, New York for four years. In the early 1990's, Cathie ran for a New Jersey State Senate seat. She started her career in public service and later took time off to raise her family. Cathie was introduced to teaching at Rutgers University, where she taught both graduate and undergraduate courses. This experience was what initially sparked her love of teaching. She continues to stay in touch with many of her students who update her regularly on their progress. This continued contact makes the art of teaching all the more satisfying.

COLLEGE LIFE OFFERS NEW WORKSHOPS!

Have you ever felt like finding new ways to reach students? Well, we have talented faculty and staff who can demonstrate creative ways to enhance learning in the classroom. Our latest workshops, Quizlet: Making Learning Fun and Flipping Your Classroom, help instructors utilize every minute during class to ensure students apply what is learned. Both programs approach grammar from a unique perspective.

Quizlet: Making Learning Fun, taught by Kitty Mazzarella, is a free online vocabulary development program. It's for students and instructors in all college levels and subject areas. Students have access to easy-to-use tools to create and print their own flashcards to help them learn the vocabulary required in their courses. Students are supported in their individual learning by an audio component that provides pronunciation for the vocabulary. The online tutoring programs – called Spell and Learn – provide drills and practice for the new words. Pictures can be added to words in sets as well. Games are included which support learning the new vocabulary. In addition, students may access flashcards, which may be freely appropriated, created by other students and instructors. Instructors may also create sets, create classes for their groups which allow them to monitor student activity, and create innovative ways to study Spelling, Pronunciation, and even Grammar. Quizlet even creates Tests which can be endlessly regenerated to produce new combinations of questions from the words in each set. Come and try it for yourself.

Flipping Your Classroom, taught by Elizabeth Nesius, is a type of blended learning that allows instructors more time to interact with their students by placing traditional classroom activity, such as lectures, outside of class time. Watching lectures in class leaves class time for hands-on activities, small group work, and one-on-one interactions between professor and student. Flipping can be done through LMS forums, Khan Academy, lecture capture software, VoiceThread, etc. This presentation will discuss benefits of the flipped classroom model, provide ideas and best practices for successful classroom flipping, and give participants an opportunity to start planning how to flip their own classes.

THE ALL COLLEGE COUNCIL WELCOMES A NEW STEERING COMMITTEE

On April 24, the All College Council (ACC) ended its second year of operation. During the past two years, the ACC has successfully provided HCCC employees and students with an opportunity to communicate new ideas across the community. Within those first two years, the ACC produced and implemented over 11 new College policies and recommendations for improving college operations.

Leadership of the ACC was directed by the Steering Committee, which was championed by Katie Sweeting as Chair, Ara Karakashian as Vice Chair, and Joseph Caniglia as Secretary. Along with their stellar leadership, the policies and recommendations of the six sub-committees were represented through their elected Chairs.

In fiscal years 2013 through 2015, we welcome the newly elected Steering Committee. This charge will be undertaken by Ara Karakashian as Chair, Joseph Caniglia as Vice Chair, and John DeLooper as Secretary. We applaud the outgoing leadership of the ACC for all the time and consideration they took out of their busy schedules to head up this effort and look forward to continued success ahead.

SUMMER HOURS

Hudson County Community College is authorizing a summer hour schedule beginning Friday, May 24, 2013 and ending on Friday, August 9, 2013. The regular hours of operation during this time will be 8:30 a.m. to 5:30 p.m., Monday through Thursday. The College will not be open for regular business on Fridays during this period. Employees are expected to reduce their lunch breaks to 30 minutes to compensate for the shorter hours of operation during the week. College activities on Fridays, Saturdays and Sundays during this period will be minimized to reduce energy and other operating costs. The College will go back to the regular five-day work week on Monday, August 12.

It is important that offices are open at 8:30 a.m. and stay open until 5:30 p.m. on Monday through Thursday. This means that employees need to be at their workstations.

Employees with questions about this schedule, or wish to use vacation or personal days to work a schedule other than 8:30 a.m. to 5:30 p.m., should contact the Human Resources Office.

Foundation Art Collection

The Hudson County Community College Foundation Art Collection, which includes artworks in media from painting and sculpture to photographs to American craft pottery and ephemera, reveals aspects of America's and New Jersey's rich artistic and cultural history from the Hudson River School period to today. In recent years, the College's acquisition efforts have focused on strengthening its American and New Jersey modern and contemporary collections.

Each month, this page in HCCC Happenings provides updates on artists whose work is in the collection, and new additions to the collection.

Donor Acknowledgements

Grateful acknowledgement is made to Mr. Kiki Romero for his generous donation of the 2006 painting by Georgia Prieto, a local artist from Union City.

Thank you to Clifford Brooks for his thoughtful donation of an autographed copy of An Artist's Notebook (1960) by Sister Mary of The Compassion, O.P., which will be kept in the HCCC Foundation Art Collection study archive, and for the seven framed works and the 35 small woodcuts by Sister Mary of the Compassion, O.P. Works by this artist are on view on the 7th Floor of the North Hudson campus. For more information about the archive, please contact Andrea Siegel, ASiegel@hccc.edu, or at 201-360-4007. Gratitude is also extended to Mr. Brooks for his donation of a small work by Sister Gemma, O.P.

Thank you to Dr. Glen Gabert, HCCC President, for his donation in honor of Marcia Manke Friesen for the purchase of a limited edition photographic print by renowned American artist William Wegman, "B is for Baker."

Thanks also to Jill St. Lifer for the wonderful art catalogues for the students, and thanks to an anonymous donor.

Artist News

The work of Chakaia Booker, a New Jersey artist who has exhibited at major museums and institutions, also graces the walls of Hudson County Community College. Booker's work, Reflection, was recently installed at 70 Sip Ave. by Facilities employees Robert Gioia and Giovanni Studuto. Special thanks to everyone on the Facilities team who installs the art works and placards, including Robert Gioia, Giovanni Studuto, Kevin Taylor, Emanuele Infurna, James Olivier, Luis de Los Santos and Mark Murray, Rafael Cabrera, Daury Ramirez, and Luis Leon and Julio Maldonado.

Giant egg tempera frescoes by New Jersey artists Ben Shahn and Bernarda Bryson Shahn (whose works are displayed throughout the North Hudson campus) are in danger of destruction. These 13 Depression-era murals that were painted for the Bronx post office are now in danger because the landmarked building is going up for sale. "These are big bold murals about the dignity of labor," said Peg Breen, the president of the New York Landmarks Conservancy (NYLC) — which is advocating for the murals' preservation. "We'd certainly like to see the post office stay, but if it has to be sold, the murals need to be protected in a public way so that the community and the city may continue to enjoy them."

The Foundation Art Collection has also recently installed a work by Richard Artschwager (1923-2013). The National Gallery of Art just announced that they too have acquired an Artschwager. You can see our Artschwager on the first floor of 2 Enos, and see the National Gallery's "Piano/Piano" in the East Wing in Washington, D.C.

Franc Palaia, whose work is in the HCCC Foundation Art Collection, gave a talk on "The Walls and Murals of Havana, Cuba," on Friday, April 26, 2013 at the Mid-Hudson Heritage Center in Poughkeepsie, New York.

Rodriguez Calero, whose work, Visionary, is on display in the student lounge at 870 Bergen, was part of a group exhibit co-sponsored by the Interchurch Center and Community Works in NYC through May 3. Called "Spirit of Community: Artists of El Barrio & Beyond," the show featured works by eight established, midcareer artists for whom the people and culture of El Barrio/East Harlem have served as significant inspiration. "Each of these artists has in turn has enriched the life of the community—on its building and subway station walls, in its gardens and storefront studios, in its museum collections and galleries."

HUDSON COUNTY COMMUNITY COLLEGE NOMBRADO FINALISTA DE LOS PREMIOS A LA EXCELENCIA DE LA ASOCIACIÓN AMERICANA DE UNIVERSIDADES COMUNITARIAS

Hudson County Community College (HCCC) es una de solo 25 universidades comunitarias de los Estados Unidos en ser nombrada finalista en un nuevo programa nacional que reconoce innovación, y prácticas prometedoras entre instituciones de dos años. El nuevo programa – Los Premios a la Excelencia – son auspiciados por la Asociación Americana de Universidades Comunitarias (AACCC), fue establecido por esta organización para alinear recomendaciones claves de la Comisión Siglo 21 en el Futuro de Universidades Comunitarias. Los finalistas fueron escogidos de un comité especialmente escogido por la Junta de Directores del AACCC, basados en criterios específicos y mesurables.

HCCC es un finalista en el categoría de Éxito Estudiantil, así como lo es Central New Mexico Community College (NM), Phillips Community College (AR), South Texas College (TX). HCCC es la única universidad comunitaria de New Jersey en estar entre los finalistas.

“Es un honor para Hudson County Community College, el haber sido seleccionados como finalistas, y ser reconocidos por el trabajo que hacemos para asegurar el éxito de nuestros estudiantes,” dijo el Dr. Glen Gabert, Presidente de HCCC.

El Dr. Gabert dijo que la nominación de la Universidad desestimó la realidad de los desafíos de estudiantes universitarios actuales tales como, el alza de los costos de matrículas, y la distribución de su tiempo para cumplir con sus clases, empleo y el cuidado de la familia. Además, los problemas de estudiantes incluyen estar académicamente preparados para sobrellevar el trabajo de curso universitario y sobrepasar barreras de lenguaje y culturales.

“Nuestra nominación detalla los programas innovados e implementados aquí en HCCC, que han sido diseñados para satisfacer las necesidades específicas de hombres y mujeres de nuestra comunidad,” dijo el Dr. Gabert. Estos incluyen cursos pre-universitarios, que preparan mejor a los estudiantes para completar sus estudios y obtener sus grados, y hacer consejería personal y tutoría, así como más disponibilidad de tutoría por parte de la facultad y estudiantes. “Como resultado, el porcentaje de retención de la Universidad fue de un 46.4% a cerca del 60%, y el promedio de graduaciones de dos a tres años ha aumentado en un 66% en los últimos cinco años,” dijo.

Los reconocimientos serán presentados en la Convención 2013 del AACCC en San Francisco el 23 de Abril.
