Parents/Students who believe that their base year income as reported on the Financial Aid Form does not truly reflect their current financial situation have the right to appeal that their current or projected year's income be used to determine eligibility for student loans and campus-based aid.

Directions

Submitting this appeal does not guarantee approval. Incomplete appeals will be returned. Any information you reported in error on your 2021-2022 Free Application for Federal Student Aid (FAFSA) will be corrected prior to evaluation of this appeal. These error corrections may reduce your financial aid eligibility. You may only appeal your financial aid eligibility based on changes in circumstances that have reduced your ability to contribute financial support for your educational costs. Complete and submit all appeal documentation to the Financial Aid Office at the location given above.

Reason for Appeal (check one)

- Significant reduction in income or loss of employment. Must be unemployed for at least 8 weeks
(Enclosed documentation that provides date of termination/release and amounts of any unemployment benefits received)
- Loss of taxed or untaxed income or benefits. (Enclosed copies of termination notice from the granting agency/company, court order or document from caseworker.)
- Separation, divorce or death, which took place after applying for financial aid. (Enclose copy of death certificate, legal separation papers or divorce decree or letter from your lawyer indicating the filing date of the divorce. If no legal separation exists, provide evidence of separate living accommodations such as driver's licenses, rental/lease agreements, mortgage papers or copies of utility bills for separate residences.)
- Others: _____
