

Infosec Learning Labs.

The lab's solution is an online, remote, accessible laboratory environment giving students real-world, hands-on experience that provides the necessary skill-set readiness to perform entry-level security practitioner support.

- The labs are already embedded in each module, and all the labs must be accessed through Canvas, not the Infosec Learning website.
- The instructor will provide students with individual access codes during the first week of class.
DO NOT PURCHASE Access codes.
- Once you get your access code, you need to do the following:
 - Click on one of the labs from the modules.
 - The system will ask you to sign up.
 - Make sure you use your HCCC email. The system will ask you to enter your access code.
 - Once the access code is verified, you are done.
 - Make sure to refresh your browser or sign out and sign in again to the canvas.
- Watch this lab demo to become familiar with Infosec Learning Labs:
